

Strontium - 90 Level 'Normal'

By JOHN E. BIRD

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Strontium-90, a radioactive product of nuclear explosions, is getting an ugly reputation in Canada. But it may be undeserved—at least for the moment.

People are being told, often by qualified physicists, that dangerous amounts of the radioactive material now are in the milk they consume. It is said that these amounts can cause leukemia or bone cancer.

The federal health department has been measuring the strontium-90 content of powdered milk samples from various parts of Canada since 1955, two years before similar measurements were started in the United States.

Dr. E. A. Watkinson, principal medical officer, environmental health and special projects, said in an interview that on the basis of these findings "strontium-90 levels are not harmful to health."

Health Minister Monteith told the Commons March 12 that "there is at present no discernible hazard by strontium-90 contamination of milk."

These statements are based on measurements made up to March, 1958. Results of readings made since then are to be announced shortly.

Dr. Watkinson said the total radiation dose from nuclear fallout, including that from strontium-90, represents only a small fraction of the radiation to which man has always been exposed from a variety of natural sources, including cosmic rays.

One of the latest statements that milk contains dangerous amounts of strontium-90 was made in Winnipeg by three University of Manitoba physicists.

Two of them said Manitoba milk contained so much strontium-90 that they planned to import powdered milk from Ontario for their own use.

The Manitoba Board of Health

assured them, after consultation with the federal health department, that the level of radio-activity in Manitoba is "not harmful to health."

FROM 13 POINTS

The department's radiochem-ical laboratory in Ottawa now measures strontium-90 levels in milk powder samples obtained from 13 points in Canada. They are Moncton, N.B.; Granby,

Megantic, La Durantie and Chicoutimi in Quebec; London, Ottawa and Walkerton in Ontario;

Arborg, Man.; Saskatoon, Sask.;

Edmonton and Calgary, and Vancouver.

Dr. Watkinson said "the measurements made so far do not make it possible as yet to draw firm conclusions on levels of strontium-90 across all parts of the country."

He said levels vary from place to place and from time to time.

It was important "not to read anything into such data and not to draw sweeping conclusions from so few observations."

The level at Vancouver in January, 1957, was 4.1 micromicrocuries (units of strontium-90) per gram of calcium, which is present in about one quart of milk. The level rose to 11.5 by November but dropped to 6.8 in March, 1958.

At Granby, Que., the level in January, 1957, was 5.5. It climbed to 10.6 in July but dropped to 4.7 in February, 1958. Similar variations were reported by the 11 other stations.

MAY TAKE YEARS

Dr. Watkinson said it may be years before the department is able to state conclusively what the ranges of variation are across the country. Until the full significance of the variations was known, present measurements were only an indication of the amounts of strontium-90 which man may be consuming.

Sources in Ottawa said the Winnipeg scientists probably based their statement on a figure in a United States publication which claimed to be the level of strontium-90 in Winnipeg milk for last July and August.

The U.S. publication said the level was 9.5 units of strontium-90 per gram of calcium. The health department's figure is nine.

However, these figures represent only one or two samplings in one small area. They do not take into account that the level has varied greatly since 1955 and that it can be affected by many conditions. For instance, local meteorological conditions create conditions resulting in a high concentration of strontium-90 for a short period.

Nuclear explosions in recent years have increased the amount of strontium-90 in Canadian milk since measurements were started in 1955. However, even today the levels in milk are so minute that large quantities of milk must be reduced in volume before strontium-90 can be detected with delicate instruments.

NATO Sea Commander Faces New Threats

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The grey wastes of the Atlantic today cloak a silent, never-ending struggle for leadership in naval power.

Admiral Jerauld (Jerry) Wright, top sea dog for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has a new worry—reports that Soviet Russia is developing a submarine that can launch a guided missile with an atomic warhead. "They can convert a number of their existing submarines to that purpose," he says grimly. "The defence of North America from the threat of attack by guided-missile submarines is occupying a good deal of our attention."

FIRST FOR ALLIES

This and a multitude of other problems in the day-to-day checkboard race for supremacy at sea are under constant study by 140 NATO officers at Admiral Wright's headquarters at Norfolk, Va. He is proud of the fact it is the first and only Allied military headquarters ever established on United States soil. The tall, sparely built 60-year-old admiral has two jobs.

As American naval commander in the Atlantic, he guards the eastern approaches to North and South American continents from the North Pole to the South Pole.

As NATO's Atlantic commander, his ships and men from the U.S., Britain, Canada and five other Allied navies patrol millions of square miles between the West Indies and the North Pole, all the vital sea lines that link Europe and North America.

MIGHTIEST FORCE

It is the mightiest naval force ever assembled in peacetime. Wright feels an atmosphere of constant alertness is essential to his command.

"Three-fourths of Russia's 450 submarines are concentrated in European waters. There they are in position to try to sever Europe from America and extend the Iron Curtain the very shoreline of the United States and Canada."

"That is their goal. Our task is to prevent them."

The admiral, who has been associated with NATO for all but a few months of its 10-year history, feels the public still isn't aware of the "enormous value of NATO to the defensive strength of the United States."

"In the decade since NATO was founded there hasn't been a single foot of NATO soil yielded to Soviet aggression. Every one of its 15 member nations has maintained its freedom and sovereignty."

Nehru Confirms Safe Arrival of Buddhist Ruler

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Dalai Lama, 23-year-old god-king of Tibet, slipped across the border into India three nights ago in a successful escape from pursuing Chinese Communists.

Prime Minister Nehru, in announcing the Buddhist ruler's safe arrival to a cheering Parliament today, indicated that he would quickly be given political asylum.

"Yes, he is in good health," Nehru declared in disclosing the end of a dramatic 13-day manhunt in which the Chinese Communists tried to head off the youthful Monarch worshipped by Tibetans as a living Buddha.

The Dalai Lama, reported travelling in a party of 80, crossed the border in extreme northeast India near the village of Towang, approximately 500 miles north of Calcutta. Towang has the largest Buddhist monastery in India but is located in almost inaccessible mountainous country.

The Chinese Communists, in disclosing Thursday that their quarry had reached India, claimed he was kidnapped by Rebels who rose up against the Communist rule in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, two weeks ago.

Slain Woman Intoxicated Says Analyst

VANCOUVER (CP)—E. J. Fennell, city analyst, testified Thursday at the assize court murder trial of Gino Casagrande, 28, that the dead woman was intoxicated when she died Feb. 27, 1958.

Casagrande is accused of the stabbing death of Jen Wardrop, 25, in a west end Vancouver home. It was the third day of his retrial on the charge.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal ordered the second trial after criticizing Mr. Justice A. M. Manson's handling of the first case. The second trial is being heard before Mr. Justice J. G. Rutland.

Fennell told the court Miss Wardrop showed a reading of 24 per cent alcohol in her blood. Casagrande was also subject to a breathalyzer test and recorded a reading of .09.

Fennell agreed with defence counsel H. A. D. Oliver that it was not possible from the test to determine how much liquor the accused had consumed.

"The crown is expected to close its case today."

Smallwood Refuses To Meet Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland and Prime Minister Diefenbaker are again at loggerheads.

Latest round in the verbal battle Thursday night saw Mr. Smallwood refuse an offer by Mr. Diefenbaker to meet in Ottawa.

The Newfoundland premier will be in Ottawa Tuesday and Wednesday for an address to the Ottawa Canadian Club—but he says he won't see the prime minister while he's here.

W. J. Brown, the province's representative on the cabinet, and James A. McGrath, Progressive Conservative member for St.

John's East, would handle the province's side of the discussion on federal grants to the island province.

Mr. Diefenbaker's March 24 Commons announcement that special grants of some $8,000,000 a year to Newfoundland will be continued only until 1962 was the main issue in the island-mainland battle of premiers.

Mr. Diefenbaker made the offer to meet with Mr. Smallwood to reporters yesterday.

Mr. Diefenbaker also announced that the government will act promptly to fill Newfoundland Supreme Court appointments if the province proclaims its legislation to increase the number of judges to four from three.

A delay in filling the province's Supreme Court vacancy caused by the death last December of Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh was another of instances of "betrayal" cited against Mr. Diefenbaker by Mr. Smallwood.

THREE FOR APPEAL

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested justice would be better served if the province gave royal assent to the bill giving it an additional judge so that three judges would be available for an appeal while the fourth sat as a trial judge.

He said he would "like very much" to see the act proclaimed, adding there wouldn't be "much delay" in filling the existing vacancy and the new appointment.

On another aspect of the Newfoundland situation, Mr. Diefenbaker suggested that Mr. Smallwood may have acted in haste in pushing through his new labor legislation last month. Mr. Smallwood now is proposing certain amendments.

"Action in haste gives rise to secondary thoughts in leisure," the prime minister commented.

Teachers Not Worried About 'Americanism'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Teachers' Federation Thursday rejected a Vancouver Island proposal to eliminate "Americanisms" in primary reading books.

The Cowichan proposal was soundly defeated at the federation's annual convention here after the Primary Teachers' Association reported there were not too many Americanisms in the reader to become concerned about.

The report said they provided the teacher with a good opportunity to point out what was wrong in the grammar and also that "all that pupils read in books is not necessarily correct."

The teachers unanimously approved a resolution calling for more textbooks by Canadian authors and publishers. Some teachers complained that some textbooks made no positive references to Canadian customs and "have the viewpoint of a foreign country."

Other resolutions approved at Thursday's windup session called for expansion of the French teaching program to start at grade five if suitable teachers are available, inclusion of drama in the school curriculum on an equal footing with art and music, and that it be given five credits each year, and publication by the education department of an outline of phonics for primary grades.

UN Scholarship Holders to get Centre at UBC

VANCOUVER (CP) — A regional training centre for recipients of United Nations fellowships and scholarships will be established at the University of British Columbia June 1.

President Norman A. MacKenzie announced today an agreement has been reached between the United Nations, the government of Canada and the University providing for the centre.

1925 DIVORCE OFFICIAL NOW

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A divorce granted July 17, 1925, became official Thursday.

Judge Sears McGee signed an order divorcing Mrs. Florence Cox, now Mrs. Florence Johnson, from John E. Cox.

The original divorce was granted by retired judge Ewing Boyd but never entered on the court's official minutes.

Mrs. Johnson, who remarried 30 years ago, didn't discover the error until she recently asked for a copy of the decree as a document for a social security compensation application.

Mrs. Johnson's lawyer, Victor H. Petty, obtained an affidavit from Boyd last week certifying the divorce was granted in 1925.

No Decision Reached On 'Sacrereligious' Edition

VANCOUVER (CP) — Student council Thursday apologized to the university of British Columbia for the incident in a special edition.

Centre of the controversy were three photographs in the "goon edition"—the last publication of the university year traditionally devoted to satire and humor.

One showed a cheerleader with outstretched arms standing before a totem pole and the caption read: "look at those nail holes in his hands."

Peter Meekinson, council president, said of the council edition Thursday:

"On behalf of the students of this campus I apologize for the goon edition and the furore it has caused."

He said the edition was sacrilegious and blasphemous. The council suspended the entire editorial staff last Friday.

Al Forrest, 24-year-old student teacher and editor of the Ubyessey, said he had nothing to do with the publication but refused to name those concerned.

Richard Ashe, 37, Kaleden fruit grower who refused to give up part of his property for Highway 97 reconstruction unless two ac-

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi came to Kaleden himself to see Mr. Ashe. In a three-hour session with the minister and divisional highways engineer Jim Hamilton yesterday afternoon, Mr. Ashe was told the new Kruger Hill-Kaleden portion of Highway 97 will be a limited access highway, wherefore his demand for a commercial access — two roads onto his property — could not be granted.

60-Year Valley Resident Dies At Age of 83

SUMMERLAND — A 60-year resident of the Okanagan and Similkameen areas will be buried here tomorrow.

Edward Harrison Hayes, who has lived in Summerland for the past 10 years, died April 1 in Kelowna Hospital at the age of 83.

Born in Pendleton, Oregon, Mr. Hayes came to the Cariboo as a boy and then worked at various Okanagan points and in the mines of the Similkameen district.

He is survived by a brother, Bert S. of John Day, Oregon; two daughters, Mrs. J. (Mildred) Dixon of West Summerland and Mrs. G. A. (Audrey) Burke of Bakersfield, Cal.; four grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Graveside services for Mr. Hayes will be conducted in Peach Orchard Cemetery at West Summerland beginning at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, under auspices of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Roselawn Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

TALK OF THE VALLEY

MYSTERY MEN have been reported drifting along the streets of Penticton. Making no effort at concealment, they are five well-known people often seen on Main Street, and they all have a secret. Reliable reports have it that there are worthwhile prizes for identifying these mystery men. More details Monday.

THE WONDER OF NATURE was lost on one Penticton lady who last night sat in on the illustrated lecture of Dr. G. Harrison Orlans in Penticton High auditorium. During the show she slipped off her shoes with a grateful sigh and fell asleep. When it was time to go she couldn't get the shoes on, and it was only after a small struggle that she wobbled uncomfortably from the building.

SELLING THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE is old stuff. Motorists crossing the ancient North Knaploos bridge the morning of April 1 were greeted by a sign offering the bridge "for sale 'cheap,' and purportedly signed by Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi.

MR. GAGLIARDI may even have seen the sign. He breezed through Penticton yesterday afternoon, pausing for a late lunch in the Prince Charles Hotel. Only known business conducted in the area by the highways minister was a three-hour talk with Keremeros grover Richard Ashe, over settlement of a land dispute. See details elsewhere this page.

CONGREGATION of Bethel Tabernacle will hear the voice of Swedish tenor Einar Waermo next Wednesday evening at 7:30. Mr. Waermo switched from concert and opera singing to devote himself to sacred music.

THERE'S NO HONOR among thieves, they say, but at least one has a conscience. Up in Kamloops the other day Ross Hiesler got an early morning call from an anonymous man, telling him where he could find the tools and electrical equipment stolen from his shop 24 hours earlier. With the tools was a dollar bill, presumably left in payment for a window broken during the break-in. Ross is happy, but police are still on the trail of the burglar who changed his mind.

HALF A DOZEN South Okanagan life underwriters today attended a spring conference in Vernon, hearing educational talks by three speakers. Total attendance was expected to be in the neighborhood of 65.

IN A FIGHTING MOOD is Kamloops city council, which this week refused to approve the 1959 school budget. Council was not told its share of the $2,107,087 education bill. An arbitration hearing is the next step.

Prominent Oliver Man Leaving Area

OLIVER — Hartley Haynes, owner of the Haynes Block and proprietor of the Terminal Cafe, has informed the Herald Bureau here that he recently sold his property and is leaving Oliver to reside in Alberni.

Mr. Haynes said that Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Williams of Vancouver had purchased his Oliver interests and would take possession on April 15. The new owners were formerly in the hotel business in Kimberley and Merritt and for the last two or three years have had real estate interests in Vancouver.

Mr. Haynes has bought the Valley Trailer Court in Alberni and will take possession on his departure from Oliver.

While in Oliver Mr. Haynes has taken a keen interest in community affairs. He was one of the first advocates of a skating rink for Oliver and worked hard to that end.

He is the current president of Branch 97 Canadian Legion and at the last village election was elected to a seat on the village board of commissioners.

500 Enjoy Screen Tour Of Scenic Wilderness

"In the western part of North Carolina there is one of the most beautiful of wilderness areas—the Southern Appalachian Highlands, where vast rich tree-covered mountains tower so far into the sky that clouds and mists make silent phantoms of the woods."

The Southern Appalachian Highlands with the flowers, birds and wildlife that they contain were the subject of a film and lecture given by Dr. G. Harrison Orlans at the Penticton High School Auditorium under the auspices of the South Okanagan Boy Scouts Council and the Audubon Society of Canada.

Approximately 500 people enjoyed the excellent film and often humorous commentary by Dr. Orlans. Closeup shots of flaming azaleas, rhododendrons, the yellow warbler, rose-breasted grosbeak and a box turtles sunning himself were particularly outstanding.

Dr. Orlans, photographer, naturalist and, at present, Professor of English and Director of Summer Session at the University of Toledo, Ohio, was the last of three naturalists to visit Penticton this season with color films of nature and wildlife in North America. His keen interest in wildlife photography and natural history since boyhood in Marion, Ohio, has resulted in field trips throughout the United States and Canada, and as far afield as England and Scotland.

68 TALKS IN 3 MONTHS

Dr. Orlans has been lecturing actively since 1946. This season he has presented 68 lectures in a span of three months. From Penticton, Dr. Orlans went to Vernon this morning and from there will make his way across North America via Edmonton, Montana, Regina and Winnipeg.

No Lack of Square Dance Fun in April

By D.V.G.

There will be no lack of square dancing parties in the Okanagan during the month of April, as clubs all up and down the valley are busy making plans.

To start off a new club has been formed 'way up north in Vernon. This club, the "Buttons and Beaus" is getting off to a good start with a square dance party tonight, April 3, in Vernon's St. James School. M. C. Chuck Inglis has issued a special invitation to callers, and lunch will be served by the club. They hope to have a real good turnout for this, their first dance, so you may be sure of a warm welcome.

BIG NIGHT AT OLIVER

This Saturday, April 4, as mentioned last week, will be the big night for the O's & B's club of Oliver. It's their big effort of the season, so it's sure to be a lot of fun. Ed and Irene Stebor will emcee the dance, and supper will be served by the club. It will be held in Oliver's Community hall, and the fun starts at 8:00 p.m.

Kelowna Wagon Wheelers are also planning a big party on April 4, in Kelowna's new Centennial hall. Bob Emerson of Omak, Wash., will emcee this one, and the club is serving a turkey supper. So it is anticipated that many Penticton dancers will be swithering whether to go north or south.

The following Saturday, April 11, Westside Squares of Westbank are having their big party night at the Community hall—more details about this one in next week's Herald.

Peach City Promenaders of Penticton are planning a party night some time this month and another in May with a name caller as emcee. Dates of these events are not known at the time of this report.

Former City Athlete Dies

Taylor Beatty, well known young man here in the 1920's and 30's, passed away suddenly at Port Alice, B.C., where he has been working for the Alaska Pine Co. for the last 25 years.

Mr. Beatty came here as a child with the family in 1908 from Ontario, and spent all his early life in Penticton. After leaving school, he worked for Malcolm Campbell Hardware Co., where the present Mac & Mac store now stands.

He was well known as an athlete, taking an active part for years in baseball, basketball, hockey and lacrosse. He was also a member of Penticton's first Aquatic Association.

He is survived by his wife Lorna, a daughter, Janice and a son Rockland in Port Alice; and three sisters, Mrs. D. P. O'Connell, Mrs. C. H. Hinkesman, and Mrs. H. V. Davis, all of Penticton.

"TOO STUPID FOR WORDS"

Demand for Board's Re-Election Scorned

Demand for the resignation of the grower-elected B.C. Fruit Board because it allegedly does not have the confidence of most growers, was branded as "silly and stupid" in Penticton yesterday afternoon.

The resignation demand came from the rebel growers' movement, the Okanagan-Kootenay Co-operative Growers Association. In a wire to B.C. Market Commissioner M. M. Gilchrist at Victoria, the OKCGA asked that the three board members be called upon to resign and new elections be held with candidates proposed by both the BCFGA and the OKCGA.

A. Gordon DesBrisay of Penticton, one of the three board members, declared the demand was "silly and stupid."

"It's just another stupid attempt to upset things," he said. "It's too stupid for words."

Reasons for the resignation demand were given by J. Sterling Hauser of Penticton, OKCGA president, and A. T. Blech of Oliver, organizer and secretary-treasurer of the rebel group set up last year.

NOT EVEN 51 PER CENT
Mr. Blech and Mr. Hauser claimed that since only 51 per cent of the growers had signed the three-party contract by April 1 when it went into effect, the fruit board had the confidence of only 51 per cent of the growers. But also suggested that not even 51 per cent of the growers had signed.

"The contracts haven't been scrutinized. Perhaps they haven't got 51 per cent as they claim," said Mr. Hauser. "We asked to be allowed to scrutinize the contracts but we were refused."

INTIMIDATION CHARGED
Mr. Blech added: "Some of the contract signatures were obtained through pressure and intimidation. I'm sure they haven't got 51 per cent of voluntary signatures."

Mr. DesBrisay, however, pointed out that signed contracts were still coming in and would continue to do so for much of this month. Although the five-year pact went into effect April 1, it can be signed at any time during the next five years by the individual growers.

"I'm quite confident that we'll have a substantial majority of signatures before very long," Mr. Hauser said the OKCGA wire to Mr. Gilchrist had been acknowledged but there was no indication of what action would be taken if any.

BEYOND AUTHORITY

Both Mr. Hauser and Mr. Blech added that a second reason for the resignation demand was that the fruit board had overstepped its legal authority on a number of occasions, one of them being noted on Page 752 of the MacPhee Report, they said. This was a reference to an advance by the board to the BCFGA in 1955 which was then used for loans to the two grower insurance companies.

"Use of B.C. Fruit Board funds for loans to insurance companies was legally improper," Mr. Hauser said.

12 Complete First Radiation Course

Civil Defence in the Penticton area took an important stride forward with completion of the radiation monitoring course that began two weeks ago.

The series of lectures, under Don Jones as instructor, started with a talk and introduction to the course by Group Capt. E. C. Tennant, Civil Defence officer for the Penticton area. Then followed a lecture on basic physics by H. A. Cairns who illustrated his subject with slides.

Another lecture, given by Dr. F. W. Curry, was on the health hazards from radiation.

The course consisted of nine full lectures as well as a practical demonstration of radiation monitoring.

It was the first of a series of lectures which Mr. Jones will be giving. It is hoped that attendance at future classes will be larger to swell the ranks of trained Civil Defence personnel.

Those taking the first course, representing the auxiliary fire, search and rescue and auxiliary police services of the Civil Defence setup, were A. C. Russell, D. Harvey, R. Hayhurst, D. DeCima, W. H. Baldrey, W. B. Stacy, E. W. Lee, A. L. Kanester, H. Strain, H. J. Stokal and B. Benner.

Saturday Night Shopping: Good for the City, But...

Mixed feelings met the Board of Trade's recommendation that Penticton return to Saturday night shopping.

The Board's retail merchants' committee reported that 70 per cent of 72 businesses contacted favored abandoning the year-old experiment of Friday night shopping till nine. City council will probably amend its store closing bylaw accordingly.

It didn't come out in the bare statistics announced after the survey, but there were some very good reasons for reverting to Saturday night store opening.

For one thing, this city draws a large number of shoppers from surrounding communities. With the right conditions they will make the trip to Penticton; if it's more convenient they shop at home.

Merchants noted that most of these rural shoppers don't come to Penticton on a Friday night. They drive in on Saturday afternoon and make a day of it. Darkened stores on Saturday night deterred them.

During the summer, "weekend tourists" are becoming more numerous. Few of them have time to get here before stores close Friday evening.

Then too, the seasonal influx of cannery workers and fruit pickers must be considered. At present they work Saturday mornings, so they stay at home Friday night.

Factors like these tipped the balance in favor of Saturday night shopping, and we feel it will turn out for the best in the long run.

But there lurks the suspicion that the opinions of Mr. and Mrs. Penticton were not weighed accurately.

Friday evening shopping is popular here, no doubt about it. Payday always loosens the purse-strings.

Taking home a careful of groceries, Friday evening leaves Saturday free for relaxation. During the summer it leaves the entire weekend clear for a jaunt.

With the groceries still unbought Saturday, how many families will pick them up this summer during drives to Oroville or Kelowna?

Regular Summit Meetings

U.S. Senator Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations committee in Washington suggests that "summit conferences" should be held regularly, perhaps as often as twice a year. In view of the futility of most "summit" meetings in the past, the suggestion may strike some people as strange. But Senator Fulbright's reasons for putting this proposal forward are sound. He rightly notes that in the past the Kremlin has urged "summit" meetings mainly for propaganda reasons. Any sign of reluctance on the part of the Western powers to respond to a "summit" meeting proposed by the Kremlin has been exploited by Soviet propagandists in an attempt to show that the West is really not anxious to reach any lasting solution to East-West problems. Thus Russia, in the eyes of uncommitted neutral countries has been able to garb herself in the guise of a country with peaceful intentions, while painting the Western Powers as potential aggressors, not really interested in peace.

Regular "summit" conferences once or twice each year might not accomplish very much. But they would have the advantage of depriving the Kremlin of much of their propaganda value by establishing them as routine meetings, in which both the Western Powers and the Kremlin were ready to participate.

Added advantage in Senator Fulbright's scheme lies in fact that in dealing with the USSR, no one except Comrade Khrushchev himself holds the power to commit the Soviet Union to a particular course of action. Regular meetings between Western Heads of State and Khrushchev might not be a bad idea.

Columbia Dam Talks to Begin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiations next week may begin removing obstacles in the way of dam construction along the Columbia River, subject of an old international dispute.

United States and Canadian members of the International Joint Commission meet here April 7. This body handles problems that develop because a river crosses the international border.

The U.S. members are more hopeful than at any time in several years of breaking a deadlock on the question of where dams should be built in the Columbia and its tributaries and how their benefits should be divided.

U.S. observers regard the negotiation atmosphere as improved because for years have contended no negotiation was possible because they lacked engineering data, but recently the international Columbia River engineering board came up with such engineering information.

The IJC's B.C. Canadian section has been reported more conciliatory in recent months, and has stopped talk of building a Fraser River project to divert water from Columbia headwaters.

The bargaining position of the Canadian section has been weakened by conflict between the federal government of Canada and the province of British Columbia over a Peace River power development proposal. The observers say there probably would be no market for power from both the Peace and Columbia River projects. The former is backed by the province, the latter by the federal government.

Members of Congress from the Pacific Northwest long have urged the IJC to end a dispute over Libby dam in Montana, a key project in the U.S. Army engineer flood control plan for the Columbia River and its tributaries.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Britain's Price Guarantees

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (England) Correspondent for the Herald

LONDON — To a Canadian observer, the British system of guaranteeing the prices of farm products and ensuring agricultural prosperity is intriguing, but frightfully expensive for the taxpayers. The annual settlement between the government and the three farmers' unions on the prices to be paid for farm products during the 1959-1960 year, has been announced.

The net result of the agreement, which has been reached is that the guaranteed prices for eggs, wool, wheat and rye have been reduced slightly. Guaranteed prices for milk, cattle, hogs, sheep, barley, oats, potatoes and sugar beets are unchanged. The effect of these new guarantees is that they will cost the government which means the taxpayers, £121 million, a decrease of £3 million from the past year. But new assistance schemes for the farmers will cost the treasury $6 million, so that there is a net increase of $3 million over last year's figures.

ARRANGED IN ADVANCE
The interesting thing about these price guarantees is that they are decided in advance of production. The farmer knows, at the beginning of his production year, what the guaranteed price is going to be for what he may produce. He is thus in a position to plan his year's production with some definite idea of what his financial returns will be at the end of the year, provided his estimate of production is met. Into this, of course, hazards of weather always enter.

In deciding on the guaranteed prices, the ministry of agriculture takes various factors into consideration. It studies the results of the past year's operations, and tries to assess the national requirements for each product. Where there has been over-production, then there is likely to be a reduction in the guaranteed

U.S. Cold Tab Costs Billions

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Get ready for your last cold of the season. While many of you will have summer cold this year, the vast majority of the 500,000,000 colds we suffer annually occur between September and May.

Longest stretch, as a rule, is in January and February. And there often is a short—and sharp—peak in April.

Don't think you can take off for another section of the country and escape. You may contract a cold just as easily in Florida or California as in Illinois or Maine.

PLENTY OF COMPANY
If it is any comfort, you will have plenty of company in your misery. About 20,000,000 other Americans will have a cold at the same time you do.

How many colds are you likely to catch this year? Statistics say that adults will come down with 3.44 colds a year. That means three or four, of course.

And the average for children is 5.38, or five or six.

Boys usually have more colds than do girls. And the bigger the family, the more colds each member is apt to have.

WORST AGE
Worst age for colds is, as a rule, three. After this the chances for catching cold drop slightly until adulthood. In old age they drop slightly again.

The more money you make, the less likely you are to catch a cold — according to some statistics. Persons in the lowest income brackets seem to have about 60 per cent more colds than those in the highest brackets. Maybe wealthy people can't buy good health, but they can afford to take better care of themselves.

Farmers are the most susceptible group. If you live in a large city, you probably will have fewer colds than persons who live on farms or in small towns.

JUST A COLD
I realize that very few of you take a cold seriously. Despite my advice to go to bed and stay there until you feel better, few are going to do it. Your ready response will be:

"Oh, it's just a cold."

Let's put a cold in its proper perspective. The common cold is the most costly ailment in the United States today. Each year Americans spend a total of $500,000,000 to treat colds. Another $42,000,000 is lost in wages. Total expenses in lost time, wages, prescription and medical bills come to a staggering $5,000,000,000 a year.

That, you might say, is cold cash!

NUTRIA'S PROTEST
Sir: As a man born and brought up in a country where the Nutria has its natural habitat, I cannot but protest against your aiding and abetting a student in Grade 5 in his attempt to demote the Nutria from an animal to the mere husk of an animal — its fur.

The Encyclopedia does not say the Nutria is not an animal. It merely states that the fur of the Coyup is known as Nutria. Why? Because that is the name given to the animal in the countries where it lives in its natural state, and the one by which it is popularly known throughout the world.

In a zoo where a Nutria is displayed, the name plate would read NUTRIA (Coyup).

In proof of my assertion please refer to the Encyclopedia Britannica under FUR — sub title "Other fur animals." In it reference is made to "The raising in captivity of several other fur animals."

Further on it says: "Among these can be listed beavers, nutrias (a South American rodent)..."

If we get the City Council to use the word Coyup instead of Nutria, it will not be long before the pound keeper's report will mention, "four Equus caballus have been apprehended roaming in the streets of Penticton," and you can well imagine what effect that will have on the tourist trade.

Personally I feel you owe the Nutria an apology and its immediate reinstatement to the status of animal.

Sincerely yours,
David Richard

Editor's note: Our encyclopedia still supports the grade 5 student. It lists nutria, but adds "see coyup." Then there's the sentence "its fur is known to furriers as nutria." But, if it makes the coyup happy, we'll call them Nutria.

OTTAWA REPORT

Important Gov't Vacancies

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

There are more than 40 important jobs in the service of our country which could be filled this month. All are in effect in the gift of the Prime Minister of the day. The vacancies arise through the death or retirement or expiration of the appointment of the previous holder, nearly all of whom were supporters of the Liberal Party and appointed by the previous government.

About half of these top jobs are full-time employment, with remuneration ranging from $22,500 a year until age 75 years down to $12,500 a year until age 65.

There are other jobs which do not call for whole-time attention, and carry a smaller emolument. And there are yet others which are honorary, taking up very little time, and the holders are reimbursed their out of pocket expenses for travelling and other costs in connection with the appointment.

Maritime lawyers will all be interested in the vacancy on the Supreme Court of Canada, which will be caused when Mr. Justice I. C. Rand reaches his 75th birthday on 27th day of this month. His successor, who must be a Maritimer, will be paid $22,500 until he too reaches that retirement age.

TOP CIVIL SERVICE POST
The top-ranking public service vacancy is the chairmanship of the Civil Service Commission. This appointment is for 10 years, and the present salary is $21,000 a year, representing more than double what it was only seven years ago, but it is unlikely to be increased to $42,000 in the next seven years.

Canada needs a Queen's Printer, to take charge of the Public Printing Office. This post, offering at present $18,000 a year, carries the status of a deputy minister, and hence like all such positions is strictly a political appointment carrying the liability or indeed the certainty of dismissal if the present government should be defeated.

One of the most interesting and important vacancies is the chairmanship of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission, which was set up 50 years ago to settle questions arising along our boundary with the United States.

This job pays $17,500 a year, and obviously calls for tact and toughness in dealing with our big neighbour.

Lesser posts needing to be filled are the chairmanship of the Board ($16,900 a year); two vice-chairmanships of the Tariff

Federation Tries to Unite Its People

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (CP) — The West Indies federation is striving to improve communications — by land, sea, air, cable and radio — in an effort to weld together its people living on islands scattered over 1,000 miles of the Caribbean Sea.

"Until our communications are improved the peoples on the islands making up our federation are going to live in ignorance of one another," says Hon. W. Andrew Rose, minister of communications and works in the federal government.

The problem of communications was one of the first tackled after the federation was formally inaugurated April 22, 1958. Some progress has been made but it is expected to be years before communications are brought up to satisfactory standards.

Major obstacles to overcome include distances and the traditional habits of the people in the 10 British colonies included in the federation — Antigua, Barbados, Dominica, Grenada, Jamaica, Montserrat, St. Christopher, Nevis, Anguilla, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, and Trinidad and Tobago.

LINKED BY CABLE
The islands are connected by an underwater cable, but its use to spread information is limited by costs. Then, too, because economies of the islands are almost identical, there are almost no problems shown by people of one island about what was going on in another.

Since one tropical island is much like another, any West Indian who could afford a holiday has preferred to go to the United Kingdom, Canada or the United States rather than visit a neighboring island. Also contributing to this travel pattern is the fact that each island has its own immigration barriers.

Again because distances and traditions, radio programs have been largely local in character. Since last April the federal government has launched a multi-pronged attack in an effort to overcome major obstacles.

CHARTERS TWO SHIPS
It has chartered two small ships which operate a regular inter-island service. The freighters have only deck facilities for passengers and as a result their use for travel purposes has been limited.

The ships are to be replaced within two years by two ships which Canada has offered to donate to the federation. The ships, to be built in Canada, are to be combined passenger-cargo vessels.

Mr. Rose said the value of the inter-island shipping service is beginning to be recognized. For months Jamaica, the largest, most industrialized and wealthiest member of the federation made little or no use of the ships. But recently Jamaican businessmen shipped 450 tons of cargo to other islands in the federation.

Most of the islands are linked by air services. Trans-Canada Air Lines, British Overseas Airways Corporation and Pan-American Airlines are among the major carriers of passengers from abroad. An inter-island service is provided by British West Indian Airways, a subsidiary of BOAC.

But, said Mr. Rose, air travel is still too costly for most residents of the islands.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS
On land, island governments are going ahead with highways to link separated communities and to open up new areas to development.

Mr. Rose said a team of United Kingdom experts now is preparing a report on ways to improve cable services among the islands. The United Kingdom also has been asked for a postal service adviser to recommend ways to improve inter-island postal services.

The federation hopes to get from Canada a team of experts to survey the development requirements of ports and harbors in the area.

William Richardson, federal government information officer, is attempting to obtain the cooperation of privately-owned radio stations in formation of an inter-island network that periodically would carry programs originating in various parts of the federation.

Television has not yet been introduced to the islands and is not expected for at least another two years.

DIVERSION

A New Yorker, in quest of a wealthy widow, consulted a marriage broker. The broker described one of his clients as being "like a picture" and the man arranged to meet her at a corner table at a Broadway night spot.

The man winced when the woman arrived and he noticed her dark moustache, misplaced eyes, and wart on her nose.

"There wasn't been much interest shown by people of one island about what was going on in another."

The broker shrugged, "Either you like Picasso or you don't."

BE DARING IN FLAMBOYANT STRIPES

When it comes to sun togs, you can be as daring as you like in choosing colors and styles. This summer, bold stripes will enliven the beach scene in flamboyant style. Sure to catch many a second look is the brightly striped chemise-style tunic, left, worn over white shorts. More conservative in design but just as vivid in color is the three-piece playsuit, right. The ensemble look is becoming as popular for sports clothes as it is for the more formal clothes in the chic girl's wardrobe.

Many Attend Craft Tea, Sale Held in Naramata

NARAMATA—Guests from Pentticton and other centres were among the 90 attending the tea held by the Women's Federation of the Naramata United Church in conjunction with a display of student handiwork at the Christian Leadership Training School.

Mrs. R. A. McLaren, whose husband is principal at the church school, and Mrs. Roy Stobie, wife of the United Church pastor, were at the door to receive guests during the afternoon. Mrs. J. D. Tiller, treasurer of the Women's Federation, sold the tea tickets.

Presiding at the beautifully appointed tea table centred with a low bowl of forsythia and daffodils were Mrs. Robert Gates from Pentticton, Mrs. Stanley Packham, Dean of Women at the LTS; Mrs. R. C. Christie of Vancouver, whose husband is lecturing at the school, and Miss Gertrude Hamilton of Naramata.

Featured attractions at the successful annual event were the interesting display of handiwork and a musical program by Mrs. P. Stallwood of Nelson, singing a number of solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Colleen Erb of Victoria.

Tea arrangements were under the supervision of Mrs. K. M. Paterson, Mrs. Philip Rounds, Mrs. Vera Thomsen and Mrs. Walter Greenwood. The bake sale was in charge of Mrs. Wesley Cairn-Duff and Mrs. Janet Stiffe.

Corrinne Broderick Honored at Shower

Miss Corrinne Broderick, a May bride-elect, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Ray Weaver and Miss Sharon Weaver at their home on Ellis Street.

The bride-to-be was the recipient of many attractive gifts which she opened prior to a social hour and refreshments served by the hostesses.

Those honoring Miss Broderick were her mother, Mrs. George Broderick, Mrs. Walter Wallin, Mrs. Don Nyen, Mrs. William Bishop, Mrs. Walter Watts, Mrs. Alex. Thomson, Miss Mildred Thomson, Miss Gayle Wallin, Miss "Skipper" Broderick, Mrs. Fred Filbrandt, Mrs. H. The bi-annual dinner meeting of the Kamloops-Okanagan District of Registered Nurses of British Columbia will be held at Kelowna, April 17, at 6:30 p.m.

The hostess chapter, whose president is Mrs. C. E. Patrick, has made plans for an interesting and enjoyable evening. A smorgasbord dinner will be served in the Aquatic Club.

The guest speaker, Dr. C. B. Holmes of Kelowna, will present a paper entitled "Hypnosis in the Practice of Medicine." The business meeting will follow. Nurses planning to attend this dinner are asked to notify their local chapters.

The Kamloops-Okanagan District of Registered Nurses of British Columbia is comprised of chapters existing in Revelstoke, Vernon, Salmon Arm, Kelowna, Pentticton and Kamloops.

The district meetings afford an opportunity for nurses in this large area to come together for the purpose of exchanging ideas and discussing problems. Resolutions from this meeting are presented to the Provincial Council in Vancouver. In a similar way nurses throughout the province are enabled to keep close contact with their association.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mrs. Mary Johnson of the neighboring city of St. James plans to make a world-wide survey of methods of teaching children how to read, to back up her contention that Canadian methods are failing with a "dangerous minority" of pupils.

Mrs. Johnson and her husband Ernest, a lawyer, have been campaigning to get changes made in the system Manitoba schools use for teaching children to read.

"I got the idea for a world survey while arguing with a local school official," she said in an interview. "He told me that the reading system taught in Manitoba is the same as is used throughout the world."

"He said there was no use arguing against the system—I would have to change the whole world."

"He said there was no use arguing against the system—I would have to change the whole world."

The remedy, she says, is to drill the children thoroughly on the alphabet and on the sounds for letters. After they have mastered this, they should be taught to blend the letters into short words.

The housewife, who has three school-age children, and her volunteer helpers so far have written to some 60 newspapers, including the Yorkshire Post in England. The over-all project, she says, "probably will take months."

CLAIMS AGREEMENT
Results have been light so far. But of letters received from parents across Canada and from such places as England and South Africa, a high percentage indicate a similar concern with reading failures among children, Mrs. Johnson said.

When the survey is completed, Mrs. Johnson plans to compile the replies and send the overall results to the newspapers which published the original letters from Canada.

Mrs. Johnson said she originally became interested in the problem when one of her own children experienced trouble in reading unfamiliar words. She learned that other parents had similar experience.

Together with her husband she tested various groups of school-age children in Winnipeg playgrounds and schools, compiling a brief on the subject and presenting it to a Manitoba royal commission on education.

They also have presented their arguments to school officials, home and school and parent-teacher associations in the province.

CIRCUS CUSTARDS

Rhubarb Now Modern Spring Food Tonic

Once upon a time, sulphur and molasses were synonymous with spring . . . but fortunately for us, rhubarb now seems to have come into its own as our modern spring tonic food . . . and how much more refreshing for both mind and body.

Which is why we think our first

KELLY'S CORNER

SOMETHING READ in an old country paper while pretty old hat in the way of news pointed to what took Third Division Norwich City to within an ace of the F.A. Cup.

The performance of Ken Nethercott, Norwich goal-keeper in the first cup-tie game against Sheffield United, portrays pretty vividly the spirit that pervades the team.

Nethercott dislocated his shoulder 30 minutes from the end of the game and though it was completely useless he stood in their with one arm to fight off a furious rally by powerful Sheffield and give Norwich a 1-1 tie.

This is the stuff of champions!

OF INTEREST IS the announcement of a baseball umpires clinic sponsored by the Penticton Recreation Commission. Even more interesting is the information that it will be conducted by none other than Bill Rapis.

Bill will be remembered as a one-time ball player quite prone to baiting umpires. After his baiting session he became a professional umpire and latterly Japanese sand-man at the Sand's Restaurant.

We were quite concerned to see that the clinic has been scheduled for this Sunday at QUEEN'S PARK but on contacting Bill, he told us that his dog knew the way to Queen's Park just as well as to King's Park and that he did not anticipate any trouble.

Seriously, though, this is a thing that has been needed for a long time in the Valley. It is to be hoped that the towns mentioned, which in case you have overlooked it are from Kelowna to Osoyoos and west to Keremeos, will take full advantage of it.

The Penticton Recreation Commission should be commended for bringing this about. As has been seen in the past you can't have good baseball without good umpiring. This clinic if well attended should go far towards providing just that, good umpiring.

MORE AND MORE we find this a difficult task we have taken on as it becomes increasingly evident that everyone who does well in athletic endeavors is liable to knock you down telling you about it.

On the other hand, if their performance has been something less than brilliant there is a certain reticence sets in that is no more difficult to overcome than the Siegfried Line.

This situation was graphically illustrated by the cunning evasive tactics taken by the group of dartsmen from the Canadian Legion who led an invasion to the coast.

Leaving here amid a fan-fare of trumpets (from this corner) they infiltrated back through the lines in such an insidious manner that your correspondent was hard put to even find them.

As for pulling a Jack Webb and "get the facts Ma'am," it was murder.

Finally, however, after much leg work and some sly use of a paid informer we managed to corner a spokesman for the group.

The interview got off the ground only after we had plied our man with a considerable amount of refreshments. It went something like this.

Us — "Well how did you make out in darts?"

Them — "Do you know that they have one of the nicest Legions I have ever seen."

"Yeah — Well how did you make out in darts?"

"You know I can't remember when I have had a better time, they really showed us a —"

"Uh-Huh — But what about the darts?"

"Darts? — oh yeah, you know they had two boards going, electric scorers with —"

"Look . . . did you play darts?"

Oh sure — we played for about five hours and then there was this big . . .

"HEY! — how many games did you win?"

"WIN? — oh yeah . . . well . . . let's see, there was that time when we only needed double one to go out and then darned if one of their players who needed a 100 got a triple sixty and then fluked a double twenty, but it was . . ."

"OKAY!! IT'S YOUR ROUND."

ABOUT HERE we decided to cover the social side of the event and had considerably more success.

Those who made the trip were — Jerry and Flo Rozander, Art and Verona Lowe, Harry and Ina Croombs, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rozander, Cary Bowes, Norm Perry, Donny Rozander and Ron Charlton.

Bill Kaines who happened to be in Vancouver sat in and Bill Small formerly of the Herald now living in Vancouver, was called on to strengthen the team. HA!

If we established anything it was that Branch 16 in Vancouver showed them a wonderful time — and we wished we'd been there.

from Kelowna to Osoyoos and west to Keremeos and should go a long way towards assuring better umpiring in the valley. (See column for more details — Herald Staff Photo.)

Stan Leonard Leads in Masters Golf Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (CP)—Stan Leonard, 44-year-old veteran pro from Vancouver, fought strong, gusty winds with patience and a bit of luck Thursday to fire a brilliant three-under-par 69 that gave him the lead in the Masters golf tournament.

He started out on the second round of the 72-hole event today with a two-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer, muscular young defending champion from Pennsylvania, Jackie Burke, the 1956 winner, and Chandler Harper.

Leonard, who finished fourth in last year's Masters and later won the $40,000 Tournament of Champions, became the first foreigner ever to lead the tournament at any stage.

Leonard had good fortune and patience where others failed Thursday and therein lies the story of his remarkable round under extremely difficult conditions.

The winds which swirled around the gulch encompassing the 10th through the 13th holes broke the spirit of many of the game's toughest competitors.

Leonard had a 33, three under par, on the first nine after sinking putts of nine, 22, and 14 feet. Then he ran into trouble. He hit into the woods on the 10th but banged out sideways and recovered for his par.

On the short 12th, he waded in to the shallow water after dunking his tee shot, blasted out and sank a 25-foot putt for his par three. He had nine straight pars on the back nine.

Four overseas players were within four strokes of first place.

Peter Thomson of Australia, holder and four-time winner of the British Open, and Spain's amazing Angel Miguel were tied with three United States pros at 72.

Gary Player of South Africa and big Dave Thomas of Wales were among nine men tied at 73.

Palmer, although dissatisfied with his driving, came in with 36 and 35 over the 6,980-yard, par-72 Augusta National course.

Burke had 37-34 and Harper 35-36.

When the winds cleared away clouds that had drenched the course during the night, they also dissipated dreams of record-breaking that had developed after some exceptional practice scores.

Slow greens made it difficult to judge shots.

Leonard, a five-foot-eight, 165-pounder, was a club professional for 17 years before he took a fling at the U.S. tour. He has won the Canadian Professional Golfers Association title six times but didn't break through to win in the U.S. until about two years ago.

Stan played the front side with hardly a mistake and only one of what he called "working men's pars."

From the 13th hole on he turned conservative and profited by the example of Jimmy Demaret, who was just ahead of him. Demaret was two under par through the 10th hole. That's where the course dips into a valley and the winds are especially tricky.

Going around the bend, De-

marett put his second shot into the water at the 11th, drove into the creek at the 12th and hit the same creek with his second at the 13th. That cost him five strokes and he finished with 34-44-78.

Canada's two other entries were well back. Veteran Henry Martell of Edmonton, who won the Canadian PGA title for the second time last year, had 41-39-80. Two strokes behind him was Bruce Castator of Toronto, 32-year-old industrial caterer and winner of the Canadian amateur crown for 1958. Castator was out in 42 and home in 40.

Stamps Win 3-2 Over Winnipeg

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampedeers, first-place finishers in the Prairie Division of the Western Hockey League, shaded Winnipeg Warriors 3-2 in the opener of division finals Thursday night.

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played here Saturday.

Warriors, down three goals late in the third period, put on a strong drive and chopped the lead by two goals within 16 seconds.

Chuck Blair, Murray Wilkie and Howe Glover scored for Calgary, with Gerry Brisson and Ray Brunel counting for Winnipeg.

Blair opened scoring early in the first period on a two-way passing play with Sid Finney.

Wilkie gave the home team a 2-0 lead before the half-way mark of the second period by banging a loose puck into the goal past Al Rollins.

Glover scored the third — and winning-goal in the third period on a pass from Blair.

Warriors started their comeback at 12:19 of the final period when Billy Mosienko's shot on the Calgary goal bounced off the boards to Brisson, who had a wide target open.

Brunel's goal came right after the face-off when he caught a loose puck and flipped it into the Calgary net.

NEW YORK (AP)—Easy Spur and Trollos, who have jumped into the Kentucky Derby picture in recent weeks, get a chance to enhance their reputations Saturday when they face a half-dozen or so other three-year-olds in the $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

Trollos, owned by Bayard Sharp, came up with something of a surprise triumph when he won Hialeah Park's Flamingo five weeks ago as First Landing wound up a badly beaten third.

Ten days ago Easy Spur, from Jim Norris' Spring Hill Farm, measured Trollos by 8½ lengths in the 1 1/16-mile of the Fountain of Youth stakes at Gulfstream.

They'll both carry 122 pounds for Saturday's 1 1/16-mile test, the final big race for three-year-olds in Florida. The race will be televised by CBS from 4:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. EST.

On his easy Fountain of Youth triumph and a record of never having lost a race over the Gulfstream track, Easy Spur has been made the 6-to-5 favorite. The colt won three of his four races last year at Gulfstream and one of his two victories this year have been over the same oval.

It could be that the Florida Derby will be something more than a duel between Easy Spur and Trollos. Sword Dancer, from the Brookmonde Stable, seemed sharp in a recent mile-and-70-yard triumph. And there also is Master Polynah, owned by the Norwood Stable of Winnipeg and winner of the Louisiana Derby, and Rare Rice.

Vancouver 3 Red Deer 5 (Red Deer leads best-of-five semi-final series 2-0).

Winnipeg 2 Calgary 3 (First game best-of-seven prairie division final).

Allan Cup Series All Knotted Up

REGINA (CP)—Pat Lundy scored with 27 seconds remaining in overtime to give Regina Caps a 6-5 win over Port Arthur Bearcats Thursday night and tie their best-of-five Western Canada Allan Cup semi-final series 2-2.

Deciding game in the series will be played here tonight. Other Regina scorers were Elmer Schwartz, with three, and Bud Rogers and George Parker with one each. Ray Ceresino had two for Bearcats, while Ron Hudson, Johnny Irving and Pete Johnston got the others.

A crowd of 1,909 saw Bearcats take a 1-0 lead in the first period, hold Regina to a 3-3 draw in the second and enter the 10-minute overtime session tied 5-5.

Ceresino opened scoring at 9:11 of the first period, sliding the puck into the net through a maze of legs.

GAME TIED Parker tied it for Regina at 2:18 of the second period. Hudson gave Bearcats the lead again at 3:42 when his shot went in off a defenceman.

Schwartz got Caps' second marker at 10:52 on a relay from Steve Gabor and Brian Whittall. Schwartz scored again 42 seconds later to send Caps in front.

Irving intercepted a pass in the Regina end and tied the game 3-3 at 15:50. Regina took the lead on Rog-

Flin Flon Making Short Work of Edmonton Oil Kings

EDMONTON (CP)—Flin Flon Bombers took a 3-0 stranglehold on the Western Canada Memorial Cup semi-finals as they defeated Edmonton Oil Kings 10-1 Thursday night.

Playing the first game of the best-of-seven series on Edmonton ice Bombers racked up the largest margin of the set so far. They won the first two contests 6-3 and 8-3 in Flin Flon.

Fourth game is set for Friday. The visitors, champions of the Saskatchewan Junior League, led 2-1 at the end of the first period, added three in the second and five more in the third.

Eilers, Saskatoon Meet in Cage Final

CALGARY (CP)—Vancouver Eilers and Saskatoon Aces emerged the winners Thursday in the semi-finals of the Canadian Women's Basketball Championships and will meet tonight for the national title.

Vancouver rolled over Calgary Maxwells 68-48 in one semi-final contest while Saskatoon upset Toronto Teamsters 61-45.

The Aces will have their work cut out for them when the two teams meet in the final. The Eilers, champions the last nine years and undefeated in the tournament, have already downed the Aces once this week, holding a 52-48 win during preliminary round robin play.

Toronto, on the basis of earlier performances this week, had been given the best chance of knocking off the champion Eilers, but a poor second half against Saskatoon eliminated them.

The Teamsters started well and posted a 6-0 lead in the first minute. They continued to pile in the points and were ahead 15-7 at the quarter and 34-29 at the half.

Led by sharp-shooting Judy Holt and rebound ace Pat Lawson, the Aces fought back to within two points at three-quarter time and had tied it up in the first minute of the fourth quarter. Continuing to improve, they pulled into a four-point lead before three minutes of the final quarter had gone by.

As the half progressed, the experienced Teamsters appeared to give in to pressure. Their chances diminished further in the final quarter when their leading scorer Judy Tancsa, fouled out.

The Maxwells were in contention only during the first quarter when they traded baskets with the Eilers and were down only 18-16 going into the second quarter. They fell behind further in the second quarter, ending the half down 39-29.

Mounties Started Dawson City 'Spiel'

By ATHOL RETALLACK
Canadian Press Correspondent
DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—Thirty-six rinks competed here in what is probably the most northerly international bonspiel in North America.

The tournament, the Dawson City International Bonspiel, was held March 20-23.

Rinks from Alaska, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories arrived by car, train and chartered aircraft.

The entry list exceeded the capacity of the ice here, but in the true spirit of the North the rinks shuffled between Dawson and Bear Creek, eight miles south, to carry on their around-the-clock curling.

Big winners in the bonspiel were the Grant Barret rink of Bear Creek and Mrs. Clara Van Bibber's rink from the mining centre of Mayo.

Veteran residents, who can trace Dawson's curling history back to 1900, drew a vivid contrast between the bonspiel and the beginnings of the game in this area.

STARTED BY MOUNTIES
Curling here began in 1900 when members of the Royal North West Mounted Police built a canvas shelter over a frozen rough behind their barracks and staged the first game in the district.

Seven years later a Dawson rink travelled 3,000 miles to Winnipeg to enter a bonspiel there. The first 360 miles, to railroad, was covered in horsedrawn sleighs.

On the way to Winnipeg the team took part in the Brandon bonspiel and won the Walkerville Cup, the Gold Standard Trophy and second prize in the Grand Challenge event.

The rink carried its winning streak into the Winnipeg tournament and won 12 of their 16 games to capture the Royal Caledonia Tankard, presented by Lord Strathcona.

Since that time curling has grown steadily in this area, and with the growth of air travel more and more rinks from formerly isolated spots are entering district bonspiels.

One aspect of this area is well suited to curling — the weather. Temperatures during the international bonspiel ranged around 30 degrees below zero, making ice maintenance a simple job.

Norris Just Kidding Black Hawks Discover

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Jim Norris isn't the great benefactor, after all.

A week ago, the 52-year-old millionaire owner of Chicago Black Hawks handed each player an unsigned cheque for $3,350 with instructions to "bring them back to me after you win the cup and I'll sign them."

At that time the Hawks had lost the first two games of the Stanley Cup semi-final series to Montreal Canadiens.

Chicago sports writers hailed Norris' gesture as one of the biggest psychological moves in hockey history. A bonus of $3,350 to each Hawk player, statisticians quickly figured, would amount to $65,000 which would make Norris the all-time big spender in the National Hockey League.

But, it was all a mistake.

NOT A BONUS

The story stayed alive four or five days until NHL President Clarence Campbell pointed out that the $3,350 was not a bonus, it was simply the money due the Hawks if they won the cup. A Chicago team official confirmed Campbell's interpretation.

Norris has already shelled out an estimated $2,000,000 into the Hawks in the last five seasons in a free-spending effort to make the club a cup winner. He isn't the first man to try to buy hockey's most prized trophy.

In 1910, Ambrose O'Brien, angel of the Renfrew Millionaires team, made an unsuccessful bid to win the trophy with a cheque book. He gave up in three years after losing a bundle of money which pointed out one thing—he didn't have the patience of Norris.

In O'Brien's day, when the dollar wasn't as bloated as it is now and when admission charges to cup games was 50 cents, O'Brien came up with a gimmick. In the season's final game he offered $100 to be divided among Renfrew players for every goal scored against Ottawa and $50 to the scorer.

DIDN'T WIN CUP

Millionaires won 17-2, the flamboyant O'Brien from Antigonish, N.S., paid out $2,550, but Renfrew didn't win the cup. It went to Montreal Wanderers, first-place finishers of the National Hockey Association who, under rules of the day, automatically became cup holders.

The situation at the time was this: Wanderers had finished their league schedule three points up on the second-place Renfrew Millionaires who had an end-of-season home-and-home double-header with Ottawa. This meant that the Millionaires had to win both games to finish on top but they lost the opener to Ottawa and the Renfrew townspeople were highly incensed.

O'Brien kept the fire going with his offer. He had brought in such players as Lester and Frank Patrick, Cyclone Taylor, Newsy Lalonde and Bert Lindsay at salaries out of proportion in those days—$2,700 to Lester Patrick, $2,000 to his brother Frank and $1,500 to $2,000 to the others for a three-month season.

The sky was the limit, the cup was their goal and Ottawa, a hated rival, had knocked the Millionaires out of the cup picture. All the Millionaires wanted then was to plaster Ottawa.

The final game was played on March 8, 1910, and the bonus incentive worked. Two years later O'Brien called it quits—he had found out the hard way that the cup, bought by Lord Stanley in 1893 for £10 (then $48.60) couldn't be bought.

Belleville Defends It's Type of Play

MONTREAL (CP)—The assistant manager of Belleville McFarlands, Canada's world amateur hockey champions, Thursday branded as "hogwash" claims that they played without regard for European rules on their way to the title.

As the Macs rushed to switch trains here before continuing their trip home from New York assistant manager Billy Reay put it this way:

"It's as simple as this. We play hockey the way we learned to play as youngsters. Body-checking, the crisp but clean type, is as much a part of our game as forechecking and backchecking. The Europeans don't like it."

"But, by the same token, we don't like hooking and slashing and they consider that a perfectly legal manoeuvre in Europe. We get penalized in Canada for those offences. European referees look the other way."

STUCK TO STYLE

Reay, former manager of Toronto Maple Leafs and once a flashy centre with Montreal Canadiens, said the Macs never intended to change their style of play to conform with European standards.

"We went to Prague to retain the world championship won by the Whitby Dunlops. It's always the same old refrain. When Canada wins there are cries of rowdiness, roughnecks and rough-house hockey."

"If we have the best hockey players and teams in the world why should we risk this reputation by conforming to a set of amateur rules with which we are unfamiliar?"

"If we are to continue competing in these world tournaments then let's play the game the way we know best. If it becomes inter-

Queen Elizabeth Knows Horses

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A sure Queen's Plate bet this year is that someone with a broad knowledge of horses and racing will sit near the Queen when she attends the 100th annual running of the classic on Tuesday, June 30. Her Majesty is one of the world's most knowledgeable and successful horsewomen.

The Ontario Jockey Club is well aware of the Queen's interest in racing and officials are making elaborate plans for her trip to the $12,000,000 New Woodbine racing strip in suburban Toronto.

When she visited Australia in 1954, Australian Jockey Club officials received the following private message:

"For heaven's sake, put someone in the royal box who really can talk about the horses. Her Majesty knows the stud book and the pedigrees all the way back to Eclipse. That would date it to 1764 when Eclipse, one of the most remarkable stallions ever known, was born."

A WESTERN REBUFF

The Calgary Tigers challenged the Toronto Argonauts in 1911 for the Canadian senior football title but were brushed aside because they were not members of the Canadian Rugby Union.

Ontario lawn bowlers have declined in numbers by nearly 2,000 members in the past 10 years. Over 20 clubs have folded in that span.

Old Man Mosienko Rates as Iron Man

When anyone mentions ancient in sport—Maurice Richard, Ted Williams and so on—they shouldn't forget Bill Mosienko, a little 5' 8" right winger with Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League. Mosie, now 38, has been playing pro hockey 20 years.

The record books don't show it, but statisticians around Winnipeg figure that he has played more than 1,000 pro games, believed to be a record, since the joined Providence of the American Hockey League in the 1940-41 season.

Mosienko went from there to Kansas City of the AHL, joined Chicago the following season and stayed with the National Hockey League club until the end of the 1954-55 campaign. He then joined Winnipeg and has been with the club since.

The NHL record book shows that he played in 937 scheduled league games in pro hockey. The book didn't list the number played with Kansas City because complete records of minor pro players weren't kept back in the early 1940s.

Jack (Winnipeg Tribune) Meek, says that Mosienko has estimated he played 35 games with Kansas City in 1941-42 and 24 games in 1942-43.

Hollywood's Social Life Gets New Look

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fifty men are out to put some life in the Los Angeles-Hollywood social world, and they're spending $1,000,000 to do it.
Saturday night will mark the preview of the Cave des Roys, a new pleasure spot in the heart of Lacienege's restaurant row. But it's different from the other stylish eateries on the boulevard. This one is a private club for 4,000 persons prominent in the movie and business world.
And the accent is not on food, but on fun.
"This will be a fun place," explained C. E. Erickson, local cafe owner and managing director of Cave des Roys. "Los Angeles sure needs something like this. It is the deadead town for its size in the country, people just don't go out and have fun here."

It's styled in French 15th century and patterned after the Cave du Rois, which several of the founders visited in Beirut, Lebanon. Architect Serge Sasso, sound of Beirut, was commissioned to design the two-story building. Much of the wood was carved in Lebanon.
Among the features: suits of armor valued at $5,000 each, a $6,000 French tapestry, leather wallpaper from the Rothschild chateau in Vienna, a bar backed with 4,000 champagne bottle bottoms (French, of course).
How did this all come about? It seems that a group of millionaires including Conrad Hilton, Ed Pauley, Justin Dart, Jack Wrather and Jules Stein agreed there was a need for a place where the local elite could meet for good fellowship. Fifty founders kicked in a few grand apiece to start the project rolling.

EXCLUSIVE MEMBERS
"There was no solicitation of membership," Erickson said. "Friends were referred by friends until the roster mounted."
Among the Hollywood names who made the team: Desi Arnaz, Anthony Quinn, Paul Newman, Tony Curtis, Fred Macmurray, Danny Thomas.
Members have one thing in common: money. They pay $50 for a lifetime membership and get a key to the front door. No dues. Drinks are all $1.35, but that also includes hors d'oeuvres and dancing. Waitresses are Hollywood show girls in mock-medieval, scanty costumes.

Opening lead—three of hearts. When Deal No. 3 started in the 156-board match between Italy and the United States, the Americans were leading, 37 international match points to 34. When the deal was over, Italy was 3 IMPs ahead.
It was a straight battle between bidding systems, and the American North-South pair came out second best.
Forquet-Stakgold play the Neapolitan Club system. A one club bid (artificial) shows a hand with at least 17 points. When they are dealt a natural club bid of lesser strength, an artificial one notrump call is made to show the club length. Hence, Siniscalco's notrump bid.

Forquet's two diamond response was forcing. The two heart bid was constructive, showing heart control. The three spade bid expressed interest in a slam and showed a good spade suit as well.
Four hearts was a waiting bid which confirmed a sound hand but did not indicate a heart suit. The four notrump bid was not Blackwood; it asked Siniscalco to choose the spot. When Siniscalco showed spade support, Forquet bid the slam, which was easily made.
The bidding by the American North-South pair was much simpler, but also less effective. Here it is:
North East South West
1 NT 2 NT
2 NT 3 NT
4 NT 4 NT
5 NT 5 NT

Harmon and Stakgold, the anchor pair on the United States team, who acquitted themselves well in their first international match, failed to get together on the practically-laydown slam.
Stakgold might have bid two diamonds over two clubs, instead of three spades, and Harmon's preference then to two spades might have led to the slam. Or else, South might have responded directly to the one club bid with two spades to apprise Harmon of a potential slam.
But whether the system was at fault, or the players, the result was not debatable. Italy gained 530 points—6 IMPs.

Israeli Gov't Seeks to Calm War Jitters

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli government sought Thursday to calm war jitters caused by a coded broadcast calling up Israeli army reserves.

The army said the announcement Wednesday night should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training maneuvers. But the army said the government radio had broadcast it in a way "likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad."

Neighboring Syria had immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 24-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken "all necessary measures to defend herself against any emergency" in the wake of the Israeli announcement.

Jordan's higher defence council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and the security of the kingdom." The communique, which did not specify what measures were being taken.

NATO Studies Russian Threat Against West

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (CP) — The NATO council today opens a study of the military implications of the Soviet threat to drive the West out of Berlin and turn the city over to its puppet East German regime.

Military and political chiefs of the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance, here to celebrate the pact's 10th anniversary, tackle the developing German crisis on the heels of a call by the NATO Big Three—Britain, France and the United States—for a firm stand in the face of the threatened Soviet lockout.

The council representatives, opening a three-day meeting, gathered Thursday for brief opening ceremonies and then quickly went behind closed doors to hear these declarations by the major powers:

1. A warning by Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd that the West must accept no German settlement that would weaken NATO and lead to the departure of American and Canadian troops from European shores.

2. A pledge by Acting U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter that the U.S. will use all the might of its arsenal of missiles and aircraft to defend its NATO allies, if need be, to block further Soviet expansion.

3. A call by French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Mureville for a strong front lest the West suffer diplomatic defeat over Berlin.

The three big-power spokesmen gave the council a still-secret report of their deliberations here Tuesday and Wednesday in preparation for the May 11 East-West foreign ministers' conference on the German problem.

West German Foreign Minister Liz, Eddie Make Plans for Private Wedding in May

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An ecstatic Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher today made plans for a private wedding that will take place probably May 11.

"No one will know about it until it's over," the joyful actress told a reporter Thursday night. "We are both very grateful to Debbie."

She was referring to Debbie Reynolds, Fisher's wife, who announced Thursday she would not oppose Fisher's desire to get a quick Nevada divorce so that he could marry Miss Taylor.

"I wish Liz and Eddie happiness," Debbie said as she arrived in Los Angeles after a transpolar flight from a movie location in Spain.

TOLD BY PRESS
A reporter told Liz and Eddie of Debbie's statement while the two were at the $500-a-week ranch that Miss Taylor rents while Fisher performs nearby at the Tropicana Hotel.

"Liz is flipping," said Fisher. "She's jumping all over the room. I'm grateful that Debbie did this."

Then Liz got on the telephone and said: "I'm so happy I almost passed out at the news."

Fisher said he probably will charge incompatibility in his divorce suit against Debbie.

Debbie was smiling and gracious at the Los Angeles airport Thursday. But her manner was matter-of-fact and her initial announcement a crisp: "Yes, I will consent."

INGRID TO HOLLYWOOD
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman returns to Hollywood today for her first visit in nine years. The Swedish actress, accompanied by her husband, theatrical impresario Lars Schmidt, will present one of the Oscars Monday night at the annual awards program of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Colonel Didn't 'Bump' Airman From Plane

TOKYO (AP) — The United States air force today cleared a lieutenant-colonel of charges he bumped six homeward-bound airmen from a transport plane so he and his family could fly to Hawaii for a vacation.

But an air force investigating board said Lt.-Col. Charles Platt Jr. of Brooklyn, N.Y., "by his actions contributed to the confusion" which caused the "administrative error" that was blamed for the bumping.

The air force did not say specifically what had happened but implied that subsequent handling of the flight became flustered by the presence of Platt—their commanding officer—and dropped the waiting airmen from the passenger list.

HAD VACANCIES
As it turned out, the investigators said, there were eight vacant seats on the plane all the time; if the mix-up hadn't happened, the servicemen, the colonel and his family all could have gone.

The board said it had turned its findings over to "appropriate commanders to determine whether or not disciplinary action is required."

The six airmen were all on emergency leave because of death or illness to close relatives.

Health Officer Disagrees Pig 'Dangerous'

VANCOUVER (CP)—A federal health officer Thursday disagreed with a medical researcher who labelled the pig as "one of the most dangerous animals alive."

Dr. E. J. Bowmer, director of the provincial division of laboratories, said that pigs are dangerous because they communicate at least four diseases to humans.

But Dr. F. W. B. Smith, chief of the federal government's health of animals division, said that "government-inspected pork is one of the safest meats to eat."

President Ted Kuhn of District E Farmers' Institute said Dr. Bowmer's statement was "most damaging" at a time when farmers are faced with huge pork surpluses.

The 100th anniversary of the birth of the Red Cross idea will be commemorated in 1959.

The plane took off without them March 26.

Li-Gen, Robert W. Burns, commander of American forces in Japan, ordered the aircraft to turn back after one of the servicemen called him and complained that Platt and his vacationing family had taken their seats.

COLONEL PUT OFF
When the plane returned, the colonel, his wife and four children were taken off. Five of the soldiers got on and completed their journeys to the United States.

The sixth, Lewis Stramski of Harrah, Okla., had left the base but caught another flight the next day. Stramski's sister died of polio a few minutes before he reached home.

Platt cancelled his vacation to await the investigation. After the board's findings were made public, he told a reporter: "The less I say about it the better."

The airman who cut the military red tape and telephoned the general was 27-year-old Cole Y. Bell of Fayetteville, Tenn., whose brother had been seriously hurt in a traffic accident.

The other men were Airman Robert J. Kindl of Saratoga Springs, N.Y., going for the funeral of his four-year-old son; Airman Gordon N. Read, Ithaca, N.Y., whose mother had died; Sgt. Paul S. Cain, Sedalia, Mo., whose nine-month-old daughter was critically ill; and Sgt. John P. Snyder of Vandergrift, Pa. Both Bell's brother and Cain's daughter are reported improving.

Famous Liner, Victim of Fog, Heads for Europe

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest passenger liner, a victim of an intermittent fog which blanketed metropolitan New York for 48 hours, weighed anchor today and headed for Europe.

The fog, disrupting air, sea and land traffic, lifted at 7 p. m. The liner got under way at 3:55 a. m. at high tide, aided by four tugs.

The Queen Elizabeth, which set a turn-around record of 16 hours and 55 minutes, sailed Wednesday afternoon with 1,693 passengers and a crew of 1,212. However, the fog forced her to anchor in Gravesend Bay.

Scores of flights were cancelled at Idlewild, La Guardia, and Newark, N.J., airports. Many incoming planes were diverted to Philadelphia, Washington and Boston airports.

It takes a GIANT to quench a 3-billion-gallon thirst

The man who asks, "Fill 'er up, sir?" is one of thousands of friendly operators and attendants of the more than 34,000 service stations across the country. Together they pumped over 3 billion gallons of gasoline and poured almost 50 million gallons of motor oil into passenger cars in 1957.

Processing, distributing and retailing petroleum products is a gigantic job requiring the services of men, machines and media. Highest on the list of advertising media are newspapers — a giant that keeps the public informed of the quality of these products.

Nearly 4,000,000 newspapers are bought daily by people who thirst for news and buy from newspaper advertising. That's one of the reasons why dealers, jobbers and manufacturers of petroleum, like so many other sellers of goods, place more money in newspapers than in any other medium.

If you have a thirst for sales, you can quench it quicker and with much more satisfaction in the action medium — the action-packed daily newspaper.
